The loveisrespect.org National Teen Dating Abuse Helpline is a 24 hour resource for teens and young adults experiencing dating abuse. It is specifically designed with teens and young adults in mind, operating around the growing technologies that they use most often: the phone, the web, and chat. Young men and women, along with their friends and families, can anonymously contact a trained teen dating abuse advocate by phone 24/7 at (866) 3331-9474 or TTY (866) 331-8453. They can also chat in a one-on-one, confidential conversation with a peer advocate between the hours of 4 pm and midnight. All advocates on the loveisrespect.org National Teen Dating Abuse Helpline are trained to offer crisis intervention, safety planning, and referrals from a database of over 4,500 resource providers.
